Summary

ICN v0.5.0 is released as a part of ICN R5 release.

What is released?

We're pleased to announce the delivery of Akraino ICN R5 release. All the components are decoupled and can be run standalone. They are integrated into the ICN installation script.

Components of the release (Akraino new)

The main themes of this release are:

Metal3 Provisioning script: Metal3 IPMI provisioning script and de-provisioning script for baremetal and virtual deployment with IPMI LAN protocol support

Binary Provisioning agent (BPA) Operator:

- BPA operator provisions a K8s cluster in baremetal and virtual deployment with Metal3. BPA uses the Metal3 information.
- BPA operator provisions a nested K8s cluster (K8s cluster inside a VM maintained by K8s). BPA manages K8s based VM under cloud.

Binary Provisioning agent (BPA) Rest API controller: BPA Rest API controller runs as K8s service in the bootstrap cluster. It allows the user to upstream software, container images and OS images.

Kubernetes Deployment (KUD): KUD is the multi-cluster installer having 3 installation provision types to install K8s multi-cluster in baremetal, VM and containerized solution. KUD is part of multicloud-k8s project in ONAP. KUD is released with multiple components as follows:
